Fig. 2. Double-plotted actogram of male Taiwan beauty snake. Horizontal and vertical bar indicate time and date, respectively. Successive two days is plotted on the horizontal bar. Black-painted is out of the nest, blank is in the nest. Nighttime (from dusk to dawn) is painted by pale grey. On the vertical bar of the left end, grey and black painted period indicate the non-active before ecdysis and the interruption of the recording (a part or all day), respectively.
Fig. 3. Double-plotted actogram of female Taiwan beauty snake. Horizontal and vertical bar indicate time and date, respectively. It is plotted successive two days on the horizontal bar. See detail in Fig.2.